second storm in Arizona has moved to southwestern Texas. A trough of low pressure extends between these storms, and rain has fallen in this trough.

The temperature has fallen decidedly in the middle and north Atlantic states and in Montana, Eastport reporting a fall of thirty-four degrees in twenty-four hours; Northfield, thirty-two degrees, and Boston, thirty degrees. The temperature has risen in the lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and the upper lake region.

The indications are that the general rain in the Mississippi valley and west gulf states will extend by Wednesday to the Ohio valley, the middle and south Atlantic and east gulf states and the lower lake region, where it will begin as snow.

The weather will grow warmer in the Atlantic states and colder in the northern portions of New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma.

Light, variable winds, shifting to southeasterly, and increasing, may be expected on the north Atlantic coast, and fresh north to east winds on the middle and south Atlantic coast.

China's foreign commerce in 1897, he said, was $285,738,300, of which the United States INCREASING CLOUDINESS TONIGHT. Sne has but 349 miles of railway; she needs, and in fifty years will have, 20,000 miles of steel track. Not only are the Philippines valuable as the key to the trade of the orient, he said, but their great area and fertility of soil neake them valuable in themselves. He had ridden hundreds of miles on the islands and cruised 2,000 miles through the archipeliago, every moment being surprised at its loveliness and wealth. He spoke of the valuable woods, riches of coal and gold, that District of Columbia, Delaware and Maryand, Increasing cloudiness tonight; threatening Wednesday, with rain in the after-For Virginia, increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight; rain Wednesday; light Weather conditions and general forecast: The storm central Monday morning in Al-berta has moved to Lake Superior, and a second storm in Arizona has moved to southwestern Texas. A trough of low pres-

"Our trade," said Senator Beveridge, "with the islands developed will be $125,-660,000 annually; for who believes that we cannot do ten times as well as Spain. Consider their imperial dimensions. Luzon is larger and richer than New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois or Onio. Mindanao is larger and richer than all New England. Manila, as a port of call and exchange, will, in the as a port of call and exchange, will, in th time of men now living, far surpass Liver pool. * * If we are willing to go to wa rather than let England have a few feet o rather than let England have a few feet of frozen Alaska, which affords no market and commands none, what should we not do rather than let Eng.and, Germany, Russia or Japan have all the Philippines? And no man on the spot can fail to see that this would be their fate if we retired."

Climate of the Philippines. He extolled the climate of the Philippine as being excellent, the best tropic climate in the world, that of Manila greatly sur-passing the climate of Hong Kong.

Of the people of the islands he said: "It will be hard for Americans who "It will be hard for Americans who have not studied them to understand the people. They are a barbarous race, modified by three centuries of contact with a decadent race. The Filipino is the South Sea Malay, put through a process of three hundred years of superstition in religion, dishonesty in dealing, disorder in habits of industry, and crueity, caprice and corruption in government. It is barely possible that one thousand men in all the archipelago are capable of self-government in the Anglo-Saxon sense. My own belief is that there are not one hundred men among them who comprehend what Anglo-Saxon self-government even means; and there are over 5. comprehend what Anglo-Saxon self-government even means; and there are over 5,000,000 people to be governed. I know many clever and highly educated men among them, but there are only three commanding intellects and characters—Arellani, Mabini and Aguinaldo. Arellani, the chief justice of our supreme court, is a profound lawyer, and a brave and incorruptible man. Mabini is the highest type of subtlety and the most constructive mind that race has yet produced. Aguinaldo is a clever, popular leader, able, brave, resourceful, cunning, ambitious, unscrupulous and master-Chas. H. Fletcher.

is a Malay Sylla; not a Filipino Washir Had Talked With the People Mr. Beveridge said he had had conversa tions with all classes of people in the Philippine Islands and had jotted down men:

ning, ambitious, unscrupulous and master-ful. He is full of decision, initiative and authority, and had the confidence of the masses. He is a natural dictator. His ideas of government are absolute orders, implicit obedience or immediate death. He under-stands the character of his countrymen, He oranda of their opinions in a note bool from which he read to the Senate extracts from a great number of interviews. He defended the military administration ures with the governor general, which council would be the germ for future legislatures, a school in practical government; an American lieutenant governor in each province, with a like council about him; if posible an American resident in each district, and a like council grouped about him; frequent and unannounced visits of provincial governors to the districts of their provinces; periodical reports to the governor general; an American board of visitation to make semi-annual trips to the archipelago without power of suggestion or interference to officials or people, but only to report and recommend to the Phillippine office of our State Department; a Philippine civil service, with promotion for efficiency; the abolition of duties on exports from the Phillippines; the establishment of import duties on a revenue basis, with such discrimination in favor of American imports as will prevent the cheaper goods of other nations from destroying American trade; a complete reform of local taxation on a just and scientific basis, beginning with the establishment of a tax on land according to its assessed value; the minting of abundant money for Philippine and orlental use; the granting of franchises and concessions upon the theory of developing the resources of the archipelago, and therefore not by sale, but upon participation in the profits of the enterprise; the formation of a system of public schools everywhere with compulsory attendance rigidly enforced; the establishment of the English language throughout the islands, teaching it exclusively in the schools and using it, through interpreters, exclusively in the courts; a simple civil code, and a still simpler criminal code, and both common to all the islands except Sulu, Mindanao and Paluan; American judges for all but smallest offenses; gradual, slow and careful introduction of the best Filipinos into the working machinery of the government; no promise whatever of the frauchise until the people have been prepared for it; all this backed by the necessary force to exec can Congress, even here in the Senate, he and his cause were supported; had he not known that it was proclaimed on the stump and in the press of a faction in the United States that every shot his misguided followers fired into the breasts of American soldiers was like the volleys fired by Washington's men against the soldiers of King George, his insurrection would have dissolved before it entirely crystallized. The utterances of American opponents of the war are read to the knornant soldiers of Aguinaido and repeated in exaggerated form among the common people. Arms and ammunition were shipped from Asiatic ports to the Filipinos by wretches claiming American citizenship; and these acts of infamy were coupled by the Malays with American assaults on our government and home. The Filipinos do not understand free speech, and the American president and the American government means to them that our President is in the minority or, he would not permit what appears to them such treasonable crificism. It is believed and stated in Luzon, Panay and Cebu that the Filipinos have only to fight, harass, retreat, break up into small parlied to the case of the political criticism. "We attempted a great task with insuf-

"We smited," he said, "at intolerable insult until the lips of every native were curling in ridicule for the cowardly Americans."
It was only by strong military action that America could secure respect from the natives.

"Mr. President," said the senator, "re-luctantly, and only from a sense of duty, am I forced to say that American opposi-tion to the war has been the chief factor in prolonging it. Had Aguinaldo not understood that in America, even in the Ameri-

Incapable of Self-Government.

He said the Filipinos are incapable of self-government. Their blood and educa-

"Self-government," he added, "is no base and common thing, to be bestowed on the merely audacious. It is the degree which crowns the graduate of liberty, not the name of liberty's infant class, who have not yet mastered the alphabet of freedom. The people are indopent and can only be instructed in American ideas and methods through example. They should have a government that is simple and strong. In dealing with Filipinos we are dealing with children. Of the government that should

These people, he said, are not capable of "consenting" to any form of government, and must be governed.

No Barrier to Extension. The ocean could be no barrier to prevent an extension of the limits of the United States. The Constitution placed no limit on the boundaries of the republic. The nation's power to make rules and regulations for the government of its possessions is not confined to any set of rules or regulations. The Constitution does not prescribe any special kind of government in "territory belonging to the United States."

"God has not been preparing the English-speaking and Teutonic peoples for a thous-and years for nothing but vain and idle self-contemplation and self-admiration," he self-contemplation and self-admiration," he said. "No! He has made us the master organizers of the world to establish system where chaos reigns. He has given us the spirit of progress to overwhelm the forces of reaction throughout the earth. He has made us adepts in government that we may administer government among savage and sentle peoples. Were it not for such a force as this the world would relapse into barbarism and night. And of all our race He has marked the American people as His chosen nation to finally lead in the regeneration of the world. is believed, by an expert hotel thief. I as between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock when the obbery was committed, while the occur ants of the room were at dinner. Soon after the dinner hour the robbers as discovered and the police were prompt notified. Detective Helan was sent to the hotel to make an investigation. It is evident that a duplicate key was used by acceeded in getting into the room he madthorough search for money and jewelry out was careful to take nothing else noncy was found.

The articles of jewelry taken included liamond pendant valued at $100; a chair pracelet, worth $75; a tortoise shell hairpin that cost $35, and a pair of bangle brace-ets, five small gold rings and a gold heart. This is the first case of its kind that ha appened in this city for a long time. In addition to assigning the case to the ocal detectives a description of the stoler local detectives a description of the stolen property has been sent by Maj. Sylvester to other cities, with a request that the officers search for the property and thief.

Today the police were told of two other robberles committed on the same floor of the hotel it is believed about the time Representative Robertson's room was entered. One of the rooms was occupied by Capt. Charles D. Palmer, From Mrs. Edward Gillett's room, adjoining, the robber took $7.

While these robberles were not discovered until later, the police are certain that they were committed by the supposed professional hotel sneak who got Representative Robertson's jewelry.
